

32nd Annual Golf Classic Continues Tradition of Success

For the 32nd year in a row, the McLennan Community College Foundation's Golf Classic continued to embrace community support in order to raise funds to benefit the college. This year's tournament took place on October 5 at the beautiful Cottonwood Creek Golf Course.

Dozens of McLennan student-athletes and volunteers were present to help support the event, which is our largest fundraiser of the year. Net proceeds from the tournament support student scholarships and capital needs on campus. We want to thank all of our volunteers who helped make the day run smoothly!

Among the exciting highlights of the tournament were hole-in-one contests, including the chance to win a GMC Acadia, sponsored by Richard Karr Motors. Raffle tickets and a silent auction featured items from dozens of local businesses. These items brought in several thousand dollars in ticket sales and auction bids.

Our deepest thanks go out to more than 130 businesses and 244 individuals (see p. 3) that supported the tournament through sponsorships, participation, or donations of cash or prizes. We are especially grateful to our Diamond Sponsors: Hampton Inn and Fairfield Inn & Suites for your generous support!

Plans are underway for the Foundation's 33rd Annual Golf Classic on Friday, October 4, 2019. We'll see you there!

Please remember the MCC Foundation in your annual giving, estate planning, and memorials.

MCC FOUNDATION MEN OF COLOR SUCCESS INITIATIVE

You may have seen the news recently that the McLennan Community College Foundation's Men of Color Success Initiative was named a TFB Charity Champion in our community! This announcement was made at the Baylor vs. Duke game on Sept. 15. Our deepest thanks go out to Foundation board members, faculty, staff, and community members who attended.

Color Success Initiative scholarship, one that will remove financial barriers for these young men who are working for a better life. Please help us support this program through gifts for professional development opportunities and scholarships for these students!

You may be wondering about this program, how the MCC Foundation is involved, and perhaps, how you can be involved as well! The MCC Foundation provides an umbrella of support for our students. Four years ago, data showed that the retention rate for our men of color was 27 percent. Our desire to help these students succeed led to our partnership with the Men of Color Success Initiative program.

This program is designed to address challenges of first generation college students, traditionally underrepresented groups, and students in need of academic and personal direction. These challenges are addressed by establishing relationships with faculty, staff, and community members. These relationships build self-confidence and establish a network of educational and professional contacts. Furthermore, students develop leadership skills by attending conferences and trainings that increase their knowledge, self-esteem, focus, and decisiveness.

How can you help? A tax-deductible gift of any size can make a difference. Our long-term goal is to endow a Men of

Scholar, Donor, and Alumni Appreciation Luncheon

The McLennan Community College Foundation honored scholarship students and donors at the Scholar, Donor, and Alumni Appreciation Luncheon Sept. 18 at MCC. The Foundation awarded a record-breaking $530,525 in student scholarships for the 2018-2019 academic year. This marks the first time in the Foundation's 28-year history that it has surpassed the half-million dollar mark in scholarship awards. Pictured above is a group of scholarship recipients with a check representing the milestone. The Foundation's scholarship application period for the 2019-2020 academic year opened Oct. 1 at www.mclennan.edu/foundation/scholarships.

NEW SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE FOR PART-TIME STUDENTS

Thanks to a generous gift from an estate, the McLennan Community College Foundation will now be able to offer substantially more scholarships for part-time students beginning with the Fall 2019 semester. Deadline to apply is Jan. 15, 2019.

The Hoover Part-Time Student Scholarship was established due to the enduring generosity of the estate of Paulanne Ream Hoover, who passed away in 1994 and left gifts to the MCC Foundation in her will. In September, the MCC Foundation board voted to create a new fund with the Hoover gift to award scholarships for part-time students, which comprise 61 percent of the MCC student population. Students must be taking between six and 11 credit hours to qualify for these awards.

“We are thrilled to be able to offer more scholarships to this group,” said MCC Foundation Executive Director Kim Patterson. “Most of these students are working full time, are often juggling family commitments, and simply cannot attend school full time. Their part-time status disqualified them for most scholarship awards. Mrs. Hoover’s generosity from long ago will open so many doors for this group of MCC students.”

For more information, contact Scholarship Coordinator Shelley Cotten at 254-299-8818 or scotten@mcclennan.edu.

2018 Distinguished Alumnus

Dr. Jason Price,
2018 Distinguished Alumnus

Yuridia Navarro-Escobedo,
2018 Distinguished Leader

The McLennan Community College Foundation's Highlander Alumni & Friends Association recently presented two prestigious awards to alumni of McLennan Community College: the Distinguished Alumni and Distinguished Leader awards.

Twin brothers Jamie Cacciola-Price and Dr. Jason Price are the dual recipients of the 2018 Distinguished Alumni Award. The brothers, who are from Canadian, TX a small town in the Texas Panhandle, attended McLennan as Theatre majors from 1999-2001 as Tartan Scholars. Jamie Cacciola-Price currently is the head of Theatre at the Frank Sinatra School for the Arts in Queens, New York. In 2016, Jamie received the prestigious Empire State Excellence in Teaching Award from New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. He was also a runner-up for the 2018 Tony Awards high school teacher of the year. Jamie is pursuing a doctorate in education at the NYU Steinhardt School of Education.

Dr. Jason Price currently serves as the Senior Lecturer (Professor) at the University of Sussex in Brighton, England, where he has earned a reputation as an esteemed theatre scholar. Jason published the well-received book, Modern Popular Theatre. He has also published Contemporary Theatre Review, Comedy Studies, Popular Entertainment Studies, and Studies in Theatre and Performance.

The Price brothers will visit Waco in mid-November, when they will present several theatre workshops for MCC students.

Yuridia Navarro-Escobedo of Waco was awarded the 2018 Distinguished Leader Award. She came to McLennan Community College as a Brazos Higher Education Service Corporation Scholar and Presidential Scholar. Yuridia has maintained a 3.8 GPA during her time at MCC, all while working two part-time jobs and volunteering at several non-profits in the Waco community. Upon graduating from MCC this year, Navarro-Escobedo will transfer to Baylor University on a MAC Scholarship from the Waco Foundation.

Alumni Spotlight: Robert Hawkins and “The Mount Rushmore of MCC”

It is hard to imagine a life better lived than that of Robert Hawkins, a 1968 graduate of McLennan Community College. Over the course of almost 80 years spent living and working in the Waco area, six different Texas Governors have appointed Hawkins to serve on eight different state boards and councils, most focusing on workforce development. Locally, he dedicated 20 years of service to the Bellmead City Council, serving four terms as mayor.

Yes, the list of Robert Hawkins’ personal and professional accomplishments is vast. But were it not for McLennan Community College, he says, his life would have turned out much differently.

Hawkins attended LaVega High School, but left during his senior year to join the Army. After his service, he worked as a process inspector at McGregor-based Rockwell. While the work was good, he knew he needed a college education to pursue his dream of working in education. Unfortunately, affordable educational opportunities in Central Texas were scarce.

In 1965, Hawkins heard rumors about an effort to launch a junior college in Waco, and soon he was circulating petitions to assist in the election effort. When McLennan Community College became a reality in 1966, Hawkins was one of the first 50 students to register for classes taught in the barracks at the James Connally Air Force Base.

“President Wilbur A. Ball, Dean of the College Chester

Hastings, and Dean of Students Larry Gilliam made us feel welcome and told us of a bright future that lay ahead for ourselves and the college,” Hawkins remembers.

“Students had easy access to these administrators. They were encouraging and during the course of the day you could see each of them going about their duties and answering questions.”

The faculty, too, made a big impression on this enthusiastic student.

“The faculty were tops in their respective fields,” he says. “I had several that changed my life—I call them “The Mount Rushmore of MCC.” The faces on Hawkins’ personal monument include Dr. Michael White, Billy Dowdy, Robert Trout, Charles Kennedy, and Clyde Koehne.

Hawkins says these instructors gave their very best and prepared their students to hold their own in any academic environment. He later proved this fact by being the first student to transfer MCC credits out of state when he attended Syracuse University in New York on a union scholarship. He later transferred to the State University of New York at Albany, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree.

In 1970, Hawkins began his career at Texas State Technical Institute (now College) as Assistant to the vice president. He later launched the college’s research department, writing grants and conducting feasibility studies. He ended his career at TSTC after 30 years, when he retired as Director of Special Projects. In 2009, his alma mater, MCC, fittingly named Hawkins the inaugural recipient of the Highlander Alumni Association Distinguished Alumni Award.

“Whatever success I may have had in my college experiences and education career, I can attribute to those two years at MCC,” Hawkins says today. “As a citizen and a taxpayer, I am very proud of all MCC has accomplished and what it has grown to become. In my opinion, MCC is a major factor in the economic and cultural life of Central Texas.”

The McLennan Steinway Series

Presents: Gail Wade & Dr. Donald Balmos

November 16

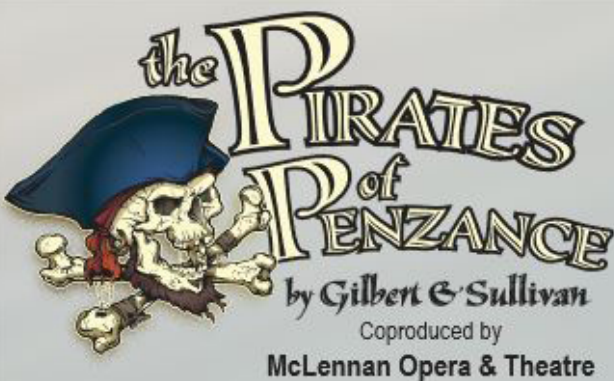

7:30 p.m.

Ball Performing Arts Center

Join us for an evening of dueling Steinways with McLennan's own piano duo, Gail Wade and Dr. Donald Balmos. Balmos served MCC as Director of Visual and Performing Arts, Dean of Arts and Sciences, and Vice President of Instruction. Wade is Coordinator of Music at MCC in addition to teaching Music Theory courses and making frequent appearances as a pianist, both solo and collaborative.

Balmos and Wade were one of the first performers in MCC's Steinway Series in 2011. This is sure to be an entertaining and educational evening as the duo returns with music of Mozart, Poulenc, and Brubeck. The MCC Foundation is pleased to offer a reception after the concert, sponsored by Ambassador Lyndon and Kay Olson.

Feb. 28-March 2
7:30 p.m.
Ball Performing Arts Center

All hands on deck as McLennan Opera and Theatre combine forces in Gilbert & Sullivan's witty, enduring, comedic masterpiece, The Pirates of Penzance. The operetta begins on the rocky shores of Cornwall where Frederic (a pirate-in-training) is celebrating his 21st birthday. Problems arise when Frederic, now of age, suddenly declares his disgust for piracy and, with his devoted nursemaid Ruth, leaves his scallywag companions to their nefarious affairs. Once on shore, Frederic encounters a group of young maidens, daughters of Major-General Stanley, and falls madly in love with all of them until he is thunderstruck by the arrival of the effervescent and adoring Mabel. However, unbeknownst to the lovebirds, Frederic's shunned shipmates, led by the infamous Pirate King, lurk in the shadows, and when they leap into action, topsy-turvy hilarity sets sail!

An Enduring Legacy

by Kim Patterson, MS, APR; MCC Foundation Executive Director

I am not usually a big fan of surprises, but I am learning to love them in my role here at the MCC Foundation! One of those surprises came this summer when we learned that a long-ago gift from donor Paulanne Ream Hoover would continue to bless students for years to come!

When Paulanne Hoover died in 1994, she left a portion of her estate to the MCC Foundation with the stipulation that we fund a scholarship for graduates of the Methodist Children's Home. To this day, the Paulanne Ream Hoover Trust continues to provide incredible opportunity for these students! The gift also helped the college earn a Department of Education grant that now funds MCC Professional Development awards. Almost 25 years later, her gift keeps on giving ... and giving some more.

Earlier this summer, the Foundation was approached by a land agent seeking to buy mineral rights that, unbeknownst to anyone, belonged to the Foundation. Thanks to an obscure line in Paulanne Hoover's will that the Foundation would receive the "residuary" of her estate, the MCC Foundation owned some East Texas mineral rights. After much research, discussion among Foundation board leadership and the Finance/Investment committee, and probate work, we liquidated the asset to help students.

This gift will enable the MCC Foundation to endow a new scholarship opportunity for part-time students. Historically, only students taking a full-time load at MCC have been eligible for most Foundation scholarships. Now, students taking between 6-11 hours are eligible for the new Hoover Part-Time Student Scholarship (read more on p. 5.) These students, which comprise 61 percent of MCC enrollment, are typically working full time and juggling family commitments on top of pursuing their education. We are so pleased to present these hard-working students a new opportunity for financial help, thanks to Paulanne Hoover.

As we studied what other areas on campus have the greatest need for financial assistance, we quickly defined the MCC Food Pantry. Not that long ago, the Food Pantry had only $900 in the fund to help purchase much-needed nutritional basics. An intentional campaign has more than doubled annual contributions to the pantry fund, but the need is constant. Thanks to this gift, the MCC Food Pantry now has a solid financial base that will ensure it can serve students in perpetuity. Stay tuned for a major announcement about this topic when the Food Pantry moves back into renovated space in January 2019!

Paulanne Hoover was a trailblazer in life: she earned her bachelor's degree from Baylor in 1932, as well as her master's degree in 1943. She also was one of the first female graduates of Baylor Law School in 1937. She worked as an elementary school teacher and later as a federal attorney in Dallas, Houston, Baltimore, and Washington D.C. She also was legally blind for many years and completely blind in her later years.

As it turns out, Paulanne Hoover was also a trailblazer in death: her estate gifts to MCC are a perfect example of the power of including the Foundation in your estate plan. Even a small percentage of the typical estate can be of huge benefit to your favorite charity. When Paulanne Hoover named the MCC Foundation in her will almost 30 years ago, she never could have dreamed how far and wide her generosity would spread: students who graduate from the Methodist Home, MCC faculty and staff, part-time students, and students dealing with hunger will all permanently benefit. I'm sure she is smiling right now.

With gratitude,

AmazonSmile - an easy way to give

Thanks to friends like you, who use the AmazonSmile program, we are able to raise funds that are used to increase scholarships, professional development, and capital improvements for students, faculty, staff, and the broader communities we serve at McLennan Community College.

If you are not using AmazonSmile, please considering doing so—it's easy! All you have to do is go to your Amazon account through smile.amazon.com and make your normal Amazon purchases. This will not affect your Amazon Prime membership. You will be asked to select a charitable organization; we are listed as McLennan Community College Foundation. Amazon's Smile program will automatically donate 0.5% of your purchases to the MCC Foundation.

Thank you for supporting the McLennan Community College Foundation!

2018 MCC Foundation Board of Directors
